

Chad Remis

Chad Remis is Executive Vice President, North America of Oxford Properties, a leading global real estate investor, asset manager and business builder. Chad leads the teams responsible for the investment, asset management and development activity across North America.

Chad is a member of Oxford's Executive Committee and Investment Committee. He initially joined Oxford's investment team in New York in 2013, and the following year relocated to his hometown of Boston to establish the company's business in that market. Under Chad's leadership in Boston, Oxford quickly became the city's second largest office landlord, launched a residential business and acquired two major commercial development sites.

Prior to joining Oxford, Chad worked in New York at an investment bank and hedge fund.

Chad holds a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Washington University in St. Louis and a Master of Business Administration from Wharton Business School, and currently lives in Boston.
